Emergency First Aid in the Workplace Level 3

Description:

Where an organisation's risk assessment of First Aid needs identifies that there is a requirement for Emergency First Aid in the Workplace practitioners, then this national award for Emergency First Aid in the Workplace satisfies the requirements of the regulatory body for First Aid – the Health and Safety Executive (HSE).

All learners will have the skills and knowledge to provide the organisation with Emergency First Aider's that can provide treatment to their casualties in a prompt, safe and effective manner.

Duration: 7 hours contact time plus assessment time, consisting of practical and theoretical activities.

Syllabus: A range of subjects are covered including,

- Responsibilities and Reporting • Resuscitation • Burns
- Assessment of the situation • Anatomy • Choking
- Dealing with an Unresponsive Casualty • Minor Injuries • Epilepsy
- Basic Hygiene in First Aid • Bleeding Control • Shock

Certification:

Assessment is ongoing by the instructor, along with question and answer sessions, and a three-year qualification will be issued to those who satisfy the criteria.

Numbers:

A maximum of 12 students can be accommodated on this course and all learners must be a minimum of 16 years of age.

First Aid at Work Level 3

Description:

It is a requirement of the Health & Safety law that employers should provide a safe and healthy environment for their employees.

If the assessment of First Aid highlights the need for qualified First Aider's, then this Level 3 qualification (Level 6 in Scotland) will provide you with suitable, highly trained personnel.

This comprehensive three-day course covers a wide range of First Aid emergencies, enabling all participants to deal with an emergency situation with confidence in a prompt, safe and effective way.

This course will give the participants a qualification to the highest level.

Duration: 21 hours contact time plus assessment time spread over at least three days.

Ideally, the course should be run over three consecutive days, but we have the flexibility to accommodate your specific needs if you so desire providing it is completed within 10 weeks of starting the course.
